

MONDAY, DEC. 31, 1 A. M.

Members of the Legislature desiring the Journal can have the paper sent to them by applying to our agent J. W.

Pratt.

CARIBBEAN ANGLOPS.—The carriers of the Journal will have a beautiful New Year's address to morrow, and the carriers of the Baldwin will have another beautiful one. They ask us to express in their behalf their hope and confidence that their patrons will be prepared to give them a gratifying reception.

KENTUCKY LEGISLATURE.—The Legislature meets at Frankfort to-day. Many matters of importance will come up before it, and the session will be double ones of great interest. We have a correspondent on the floor who will keep our readers fully posted up to what transpires.

BRINGFORD INSURANCE COMPANY.—Mr. P. G. Gray has been appointed agent of this company in this city. His card will be found in our columns. Mr. G.'s office is in the second story of Newcomb's building, corner of Main and Bullitt streets.

It will be seen from a notice in another column that the Independent Order of Daughters are to have a procession to-morrow.

REMOVAL.—Mr. Blanchard issues his proclamation through the columns this morning, informing the public that he has resolved to quit his seat, between Second and Third. The attention of every good citizen, especially those in want of clothes, is solicited to the proclamation.

The Eclipse passed Memphis on Saturday morning with 600 tons of freight. She will be here to-morrow.

The Sultan is due this morning.

STREET ACCIDENTS.—The steamer W. A. Evans, which had left New York yesterday morning, ran aground and suffered a hole in her bow. To prevent her sinking about 150 bushels, port and 200 bushels, flour were thrown overboard. We presume it was consigned for New Orleans. We have no further particulars.

The steamer Montauk, bound from Keokuk to St. Louis, got around above Hannibal on Sunday, and her officers were compelled to drive her to port a part of the cargo, consisting of pork and lard. After the freight was thrown into the river she got afoul.

HOOT MARKET.—We were at all the pack-houses in the city yesterday, and could hear of no transactions in hogs or their products. Hogs were at $100 per hundred.

BALTIMORE.—Mr. H. H. Richardson, 68, Foller 30, Pennsylvania, N. W., scattering N. W., Whole number east 208—necessary to a choice 105.

Those who can hold the product are not willing to sell at present prices, anticipating an increase as soon as money gets easier. There are however two contingencies operating against them.

The first is that peace may be concluded between the belligerent powers in Europe, and the second that the crop may turn out considerably smaller than expected.

The following is in report of the different cities in to last night: Owsley & Co., fac-tioned on Saturday night:

killed, In Penn. 711,665; Atchison, Thomas, & Co. 43,837; 1,204;

Dowdy & Co. (Enfield) 32,456; 100;

Hannan, Rickert, & Co. 30,000 (est.) 103;

Huffman, Hannan, & Co. 14,611; 99 New Albany 30,000—

272,991 2,410.

The number of hogs killed in New Albany is above the estimate for the whole season.

The above presents a total of 276,429. It is estimated that at least 35,000 head are yet to come in, which would make an aggregate for the whole season of $30,600. The burglars effected their entrance through the back door by breaking a hole and then trying it open. The door was secured inside by two hooks. It is remarkable that persons living next door, and who were up all night, did not notice whatever. The robbers did not take the canvas which covered the sofa, which was at once acceded to by all present.

BURGLARY.—The store of Mr. Heinkel, merchant tailor on Main street, opposite the Gallatin Hotel, was broken into and a quantity of cloths, cambrics, and waistings to the value of about $3,000. The burglars effected their entrance through the back door by breaking a hole and then trying it open. The door was secured inside by two hooks. It is remarkable that persons living next door, and who were up all night, did not notice whatever. The robbers did not take the canvas which covered the sofa, which was at once acceded to by all present.

We direct the special attention of the friends of the arts to the "Henry C. Cole's" sale of prints at the Mutual Building (Moore's) commencing this evening. These pictures are clearly original, and possess the highest artistic merit. Many of them are from the easels of the first artists of Europe and America and are unquestionably the best lot of pictures ever brought to the hammer. Those desirous of filling their parlors or making holiday presents should send this sale, as in all probability they will not bring one-tenth of their value.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—An accident occurred on the Jeffersonville Railroad Saturday morning, by the slipping of a car on a short stretch of track, so that the train was on it. The engine and the two front cars were derailed over it, but the last car was thrown off and turned over. No one was seriously hurt. The damage is small. Mr. Ricketts, the president, was on the train and received some injury.

LOST.—Our readers are referred to the advertisement of a double gold locket with chain and seal attached, and also a ladies' bracelet. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving the articles at this office.

ONION INVESTMENT COMPANY.—We learn from the Pittsburgh Gazette, that the incorporators of this company have held a meeting and resolved to keep their stock on the 7th of January, and that books will also be opened at Philadelphia. The wheeling, Cincinnati, and Louisville, and the Gazette suggest that some opportunity will be offered to New York, St. Louis, Baltimore, and all the leading towns on the Ohio.

MR. MASON'S FAREWELL CONCERT.—We are requested to direct the attention of the children who are to take part in the concert to the time and place of rehearsal, as well as to the meeting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. See advertisement.

The High Street School is excused till the night of the concert.

THE OPERA TROUPE.—The Harrison and Payne Opera Troupe commence a series of performances at the theatre to-night. The performers are all young and attractive, and in every Western city in which they have been heard they have created a favorable impression.

Miss Louisa Pyne, the prima donna, is said to possess a voice of great power and compass and exquisite sweetness. The "Cinna" Gazette says that she has elicited more genuine admiration than any other actress in the country, who have visited that enterprising city. She is no less admired for her talents and prepossessing appearance.

The operas performed by this troupe are all in the English language. The one for this evening is "The Crown Diamonds."
